

PART-TIME WEEKEND TRAINER/FACILITATOR

London Training Centre | London, Ontario | $200 per training day

London Training Centre is seeking an enthusiastic and reliable Part-Time Weekend Trainer/Facilitator to deliver engaging, skills-based training primarily on Saturdays and Sundays. Preference will be given to candidates who are currently certified as a Canadian Red Cross First Aid Instructor.

We will provide the successful candidate with the training required to deliver our Safe Food Handling and Customer Service programs.

What You'll Do

- Facilitate Canadian Red Cross First Aid/CPR courses in accordance with current program standards, if qualified.
- Deliver Safe Food Handling and Customer Service training after completing the required training.
- Use engaging teaching techniques that support different learning styles and participant needs.
- Monitor and assess participant knowledge and practical skills, including tests and course assessments.
- Prepare classrooms, equipment, training materials and participant handouts before each course.
- Complete required course documentation accurately and represent London Training Centre professionally onsite and offsite.

What We're Looking For

- Current Canadian Red Cross First Aid Instructor certification is strongly preferred.
- Previous training, facilitation or adult education experience is an asset.
- Strong communication, presentation, organization and time-management skills.
- Confidence facilitating groups, adapting to participant needs and working independently as part of a team.
- Reliable transportation for occasional offsite training in London and surrounding communities.

Schedule & Compensation

- $200 per training day.
- Part-time, primarily Saturdays and Sundays.
- Training days are scheduled based on course demand and instructor availability, with possible additional shifts.

How to Apply

Please email your resume, including any current Canadian Red Cross instructor certifications, to kristie@londontraining.on.ca
